THIESS EXTENDED FOR FIVE YEARS AT PEAK DOWNS MINE

Thiess is pleased to advise of the extension of its mining services contract at Peak Downs Mine in Queensland, Australia for BHP Mitsubishi Alliance (BMA).

Located southeast of Moranbah, Peak Downs is an open-pit mine producing high-quality steelmaking coal and is one of Australia's largest mines by recoverable coal reserves.

Under the contract, Thiess will continue to operate and maintain mining equipment to move overburden at the mine, supporting BMA's production requirements over the next five years.

Starting July 2022, revenue to Thiess is worth more than $700 million.

Thiess Executive Chair and CEO Michael Wright said: "Our selection as preferred contractor reflects our team's ability to develop long-term and value adding partnerships with our clients, through our ongoing performance and a genuine commitment to delivering sustainable mining solutions."

Thiess Executive General Manager for Australia Shaun Newberry said: "We're thrilled to continue our strong working relationship with BMA, building on our track record of delivery at Peak Downs mine where we have operated since 2017.

"We're committed to driving long-term economic value through ongoing community engagement, local jobs and regional supply opportunities."

Thiess is currently hiring for a range of roles including Truck, Multi-skilled and Excavator Operators at Peak Downs and neighbouring mine Caval Ridge.
